

Development Manager

Location: Calgary

Position Summary:

Our Systems Development Team is looking for a charismatic Development Manager to lead them through the delivery of various projects. This opportunity offers interesting challenges in project delivery that are unique to the online gaming space and requires innovative solutions and creativity. Our team focuses on continuous improvement of the existing software through refactoring, replacement and advanced testing practices. This position also involves elements of practice leadership and application of disciplined Agile methodology. If you would like the opportunity to work with a great team and lead projects through to successful delivery, then take advantage of this rare opportunity. Come join us!

Primary Roles / Responsibilities:

- Manage several projects concurrently
- Lead department workload planning
- Manage the assignment and distribution of team members
- Ensure on time, on scope, on budget delivery of various game projects with a high degree of communication and an interactive approach
- Work together with Product Management, Development, Quality Assurance, Build, Deployment, Architects and Senior Management in all phases and aspects of project through to deployment of each product
- Interact externally with clients, third party software vendors, etc
- Manage a team of up to 20 people in the delivery of multiple projects.

Required Skills / Competencies:

- Outstanding communication skills using a variety of channels
- Manage uncertainty and risk
- Ability to handle scope changes throughout the project, re-estimate and correct the project timeline
- Leadership ability
- Able to think under pressure
- Establish delivery targets for team
- Excellent planning and organizing skills

Education and Experience:

- 3 – 5 years project management experience
- Experience with any of the following would be an asset: Agile, XP, Scrum, and Lean
- Degree or diploma in Computer Science (or equivalent) would be an asset